

PUTNAM MEN
VIEW FARMS
FROM PLANETRIP IN AIR FEATURE OF
SOIL CONSERVATION
SESSION

Through arrangements made by the Central National Bank, Putnam county agricultural leaders interested in soil conservation saw their farms from the air Thursday.

Doris Salsman, Clayton Cash, J. J. Coffman and David Grimes, district supervisors of the Putnam County Soil Conservation District, Leonard Mann, president of the county Farm Bureau, James Morrow of the Purdue Extension staff, K. W. Harris, local county agent, Leon Snyder, Henry Perkins, Harlan Hudson, Ernest Miller, Frankie Smith and C. A. Webb flew over Putnam county farms to view the damage caused by erosion. They also observed the effects of terracing, contouring, strip cropping and fertilization in protecting and conserving soils.

Fred O'Hair and the Central National Bank officials are interested in soil conservation and aviation and this meeting of local leaders was held to acquaint them with observing actual soil conditions from the air. A statewide meeting of flying farmers and farmers interested in soil conservation is being planned by Mr. O'Hair and the local bank to be held sometime in August at the local airport. These leaders will be expected to help carry on an educational program to acquaint farmers of the county with the value of conservation practices and the value of the air observation in determining the practices most needed.

Bill Renshaw, Indiana editor of the Prairie Farmer and the organizer of "Flying Farmers" flew to Greencastle from Indianapolis in his Ercoupe for this meeting and was very complimentary in his remarks about this new type of soil conservation through observation from the air.

Lee Eikenberry, sales manager for the Muncie Aviation Corporation flew a new Piper Super Cruiser in from Muncie and together with William Colwell, local airport manager, piloted the agricultural leaders over their farms. This was the first air trip for several of these men and they were all enthusiastic about the possibilities of this type of program for carrying out a good program of soil conservation in Putnam county.

Activities are increasing daily at the local airport and with present plans for future development it should soon become one of the better airports of the state.

The younger generation was not overlooked as Louise and Henry Coffman, daughter and son of R. J. Coffman, one of the soil district supervisors, were flown over some of Putnam county's farm land.

Announcement of the dates for the future meeting at the local airport will be made at a later date. All "Flying Farmers" are holding a field day at Purdue University on July 29 and Mr. Renshaw has invited any farmer interested in flying to attend.

STATE POLICE FIND BODY OF YOUNG BOY

State police from the Putnamville Post were called to Cartersburg at 5:30 p. m. Thursday to aid in finding the body of a 14-year-old youngster by the name of Harris who was drowned while swimming in a creek near the little Hendricks county town.

The officers took a boat and grappling hooks and located the body about 7:30 p. m.

Those going from the Putnamville Post were state policemen Hecko, Harbison, Trowbridge and Williams.

War Vet Held
In Wife's Death

ZION, Ill., June 14.—(UP)—A broken wooden club and a torn jacket bearing what appeared to be fresh blood were found in the home of Ford Ashcraft, 38, war veteran, who said his wife was killed by a railroad train in an unfulfilled suicide pact, police said today.

A coroner's jury recommended yesterday that Ashcraft, a garage mechanic, be held to the grand jury for murder. He was taken to the county jail at Waukegan, Ill.

The jury acted after Ashcraft said he entered into a suicide pact with his wife, drove their car onto the railroad tracks and then "lost my nerve" at the last moment.

The jury and police were confronted with several mystifying facts, in addition to the club and jacket.

Ashcraft admitted under questioning that he was in love with a 17-year-old girl formerly employed in his home.

He said he had taken out life insurance recently for himself and his wife.

Ashcraft testified that he and his wife, Lucile, 38, the mother of five children, stopped their automobile on the tracks Tuesday night in front of a Chicago and North Western train. He said they had agreed to commit suicide after a quarrel over his going with other women.

As the train bore down on them, Ashcraft said, he unclipped his arms from about his wife, and jumped from the car shouting, "Leap, honey."

"I heard the train whistle and saw the wigwag signal start working," he said. "I don't know what happened to me then."

He said he turned as he ran and saw his wife slide over into the driver's seat and thought she was following him.

"All I heard her say was 'honey' as the train struck the car," he said.

Ashcraft testified that he and his wife decided to kill themselves during a quarrel while they were drinking in a tavern.

Mental Patient
Murders Two

CAMBRIDGE, Ill., June 14.—John Morris, 67 years old, former inmate of a mental hospital, was held today on warrants charging him with murdering his brother Frank, 72, and Henry County Sheriff Byron Pierce, 45.

The sheriff was shot and killed at the door of the Morris brothers' farm home. Frank Morris' body was found several hours later in a patch of weeds about 75 feet away, but apparently his death occurred early this morning, according to authorities.

Capture of John Morris came after authorities stormed his house with machine guns and tear gas for almost an hour. The house caught fire, but Morris was pulled from the burning kitchen unhurt. The house was destroyed.

State's Attorney Reynolds M. Everett said John Morris had signed a statement that he shot his brother and Pierce. Details of the statement were not disclosed.

Everett said the prisoner told him he was released June 1 from the East Moline, Ill., State Hospital after 14 months in that institution. It was the second time Morris had been hospitalized there, Everett added.

JENNER WINS
NOMINATION FOR SENATORBEDFORD WAR VET WILL HEAD INDIANA GOP
TICKET

INDIANAPOLIS, June 14.—(UP)—Indiana's smoothly-gear-ed Republican state organization, duplicating a convention performance staged only once before in Hoosier politics, rested on its laurels today after successfully dictating the 1946 convention nominees.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 14.—(UP)—Indiana Republicans yesterday nominated 37-year-old William E. Jenner, Bedford attorney, and former state GOP chairman, as U. S. senatorial candidate shortly after incumbent Raymond E. Willis withdrew in a surprise move.

After Willis withdrew, Clarence Light, Vanderburg County delegate, nominated Congressman Charles F. LaFollette for the U. S. senatorial nomination. Then, Woody Jenner, father of organization-backed William E. Jenner, offered his son's name in nomination.

Jenner defeated Evansville's self-styled radical Republican, Congressman Charles M. LaFollette, by a lopsided margin.

Unofficially, Jenner received 1,994 votes and LaFollette 105. Thirty delegates did not vote. It requires 1,065 ballots for nomination.

LaFollette campaigned with GO-PAC backing while Jenner was the choice of the state organization.

Willis, 70-year-old Angola newspaper publisher, completing his first term in congress, threw in the sponge before his name could be proposed before the convention.

He was the first Indiana senator to fail to win renomination.

He withdrew after requesting a delay in the nomination while he checked sentiment of the Allen County delegation.

Jenner was in a strangely subdued mood.

"I humbly and gratefully accept the great honor the convention has awarded me today," he said.

LaFollette immediately took the rostrum and moved that the nomination be made unanimous for Jenner.

The staunch conservative, a prewar isolationist and strong opponent of price control, pleaded for unity in the fall elections.

Attorney General James A. Emmert, of Shelbyville, was nominated for the position of judge of the Indiana Supreme court when Frank N. Richman of Columbus, present incumbent withdrew.

Earlier, nine candidates for high state officers who were opposed in pre-convention activity were nominated unanimously by the delegates.

Thomas Bath Jr., South Bend, the St. Joseph County chairman, was named to top GOP within-the-state nomination—secretary of state. His nomination, along with that of the eight others who were also unopposed, was a notable victory for the state organization which reportedly had endorsed them.

Chinese Port
Is "Hot Spot"

NANKING, June 14.—(INS)—Communist control of key points in the outskirts of Tsingtao, U. S. Naval base on the Shantung peninsula, remained the question mark today in Gen. George C. Marshall's efforts to implement peace in China.

Military observers, however, expressed belief that the communists would refrain from attacking the city itself despite reports that they were attacking towns less than 20 miles from the city. These towns, Huangpi and Pehna, are the sources of Tsingtao's water supply.

This belief was strengthened by the fact that Adm. Charles M. Cooke, commander of the U. S. Seventh Fleet, returned to Shanghai from Tsingtao and by the presence of some 30,000 well-equipped U. S. Marines and Naval personnel.

Advices received by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Nanking headquarters said that Communists in the Tsingtao vicinity numbered only about 20,000 and are poorly equipped.

The Communists, nevertheless, control virtually all of the strategic Tsinan-Tsingtao railway and are within rifle range of the city. The Nationalist Tsingtao garrison consists of only nine thousand men.

U. S. PROPOSES TO OUTLAW THE
ATOMIC BOMB

NEW YORK, June 14.—(UP)—The United States proposed today to outlaw atomic war by placing all "dangerous" atomic activities—eventually including American atom bomb plants—under a global agency backed by iron-clad enforcement powers.

The projected agency, to be established by international agreement within the framework of the United Nations, would be given a world-wide monopoly in the atomic field.

The United States proposal was a plea for ridding the world of fear of atomic destruction, substituting instead faith among nations. To do this, the international atomic control agency would:

1. Have certain powers superceding the sovereignty of individual nations.

2. Be empowered to inflict severe penalties upon any nation at the slightest indication of intentions of misusing atomic knowledge.

3. Be unhampered by the veto power of any nation, regardless of its strength.

The American proposal, which has the full backing of President Truman, was formally presented to the first meeting of the UN atomic energy commission by Bernard M. Baruch, elderly U. S. representative on the 12-nation group and its provisional chairman.

In a straightforward address, dramatic in its terseness, he told the commission, "we must answer the world's longing for peace and security."

"We are here to make a choice between the quick and the dead," were his opening words.

"That is our business. Behind the black portent of the new atomic age lies a hope which seized upon with faith, can work our salvation. If we fail, then we have damned every man to be the slave of fear. Let us not deceive ourselves; we must elect world peace or world destruction."

Frankly admitting the revolutionary implications of an atomic control system which would transcend national sovereignty rights, Baruch said the democratic peoples of the world "are not afraid of an internationalism that protects."

However, "they are unwilling to be fobbed off by mouthings about narrow sovereignty, which is today's phrase for yesterday's isolation," he said.

Baruch, a presidential adviser in two world wars, told the commission that mere "pious" declarations can never dispel the fear of atomic war which now grips the world. What people in all lands want is a program "of enforceable sanctions—an international law with teeth in it."

The United States now has exclusive possession of the atomic bomb, he declared, "but she stands ready to proscribe and destroy this instrument—to lift its use from death and life—if the world will join in a pact to that end."

Specifically, Baruch proposed: 1. Establishment of an inter-

TOOK GIFTS
FROM WEALTHY
JAP CONTRACTOR

HIGH U. S. OFFICERS INVOLVED IN HEADQUARTERS SCANDAL

TOKYO, June 14.—(UP)—The provost marshal's office today disclosed a general headquarters scandal which threatened to involve many high American army officers who allegedly received lavish gifts for giving millionaire contractor Akira Ando preference in construction contracts.

The disclosure was the result of an investigation begun last November and which culminated in a raid on Ando by counter intelligence corps and the provost Marshal. Ando now is in protective custody at the Metropolitan police jail.

Col. M. Logie, deputy Provost Marshal, said that American officers involved would include some from the military government and some from the economic and scientific section of Supreme Allied Headquarters.

He said the investigation revealed that "many high general headquarters officers"—some of general officer rank—were involved.

"There may be some general officers with red faces, too," Logie said.

Ando was alleged to have given many Gaijisha parties for "influential officers" in hopes of securing favors, Logie said.

A Gaijisha girl was said to have told officials investigating the scandal that Ando had offered her 10,000 yen to spend the week-end with a certain general headquarters officer. She said Ando expected to obtain a construction contract through the officer.

Logie said Americans implicated in the scandal probably would be charged under the articles of war or a standing regulation forbidding officers to accept gifts. Another possibility, he said, was that they might be accused of conduct "unbecoming a gentleman."

Court To Hear
Allied Officers

BEELGRADE, June 14.—(UP)—Defense counsel for Gen. Draja Mihailovich plans to call three Allied Liaison officers who formerly served with the Chetniks, it was learned today.

The three are Col. Robert McDowell, United States; Col. William Bailey, British, and Cpl. Duane Hudson, a South African who served with the British troops.

If the request is granted it was indicated the Mihailovich trial may be postponed three weeks to allow the witnesses to come from abroad.

There was no indication as to whether the request would be granted.

The formerly estranged wife of Mihailovich made strong efforts yesterday to attend his trial and to assist her husband. She broke down and cried out, "it's untrue," when asked about disparaging remarks she supposedly made about her husband during the war.

For the past three days she has listened to a running account of the trial by radio.

Mrs. Mihailovich is the mother of three of the Chetnik leader's children. One son was killed fighting with the Chetniks while the second son served with Marshal Tito's Partisans.

A daughter served as a surgeon nurse in a Partisan field hospital.

Mrs. Mihailovich was reported dead in a Polish prison camp during the war. She spent two years in the Belgrade jail on German orders and was beaten during the questioning.

She appealed to her husband's attorneys yesterday, crying "isn't there anything I can do?"

Petrillo Charged With Violation

CHICAGO, June 14.—(INS)—James Caesar Petrillo, flanked by his attorneys, today appeared before Federal Judge Walter J. La Buy to answer a federal charge of violating the recently enacted Lea Act.

The president of the AFL American Federation of Musicians was granted a continuance until July 15 and his bonds was set at $10,000.

CHICAGO, June 14.—(INS)—James Caesar Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians (AFL), is scheduled for arraignment today in federal district court on a charge of violating the recently enacted Lea law.

Petrillo set the stage for the action taken by U. S. District Atty. J. Albert Wolf when he ordered a strike of three record librarians at Chicago radio station WAAF.

The musicians' union czar announced in calling the strike that through it he hoped to determine the constitutionality of the law.

Wolf filed a criminal information yesterday and through arrangement with Petrillo's lawyer, Joseph A. Padway, had a previous date of June 21 set aside in favor of today's action.

The information accuses Petrillo of attempting to force radio station WAAF to employ additional persons not needed by the station, which it terms a violation of the law.

Conviction calls for a maximum jail sentence of one year, a maximum fine of $1,000 or both.

SHIP STRIKE AGREEMENT IS NEAR, BELIEF

MARITIME WALKOUT IS SCHEDULED AT MIDNIGHT

WASHINGTON, June 14.—(UP)—A government-union agreement to prevent a merchant marine strike at midnight near completion today—but it may come too late to prevent some disruption of the nation's shipping.

The men who sail ships and the men who load and unload them were ready on the east, west and gulf coasts to stay away from the jobs tomorrow unless notified that an agreement had been reached. Other unions were expected to respect any picket lines.

However, an agreement was expected to be signed before the midnight deadline after Harry Bridges, west coast longshoremen's leader and last holdout, finally yielded early today to pressure to accept the government's terms.

Representatives of the one independent and six CIO unions which agreed on united strike action unless all were satisfied, scheduled a meeting with government and employer representatives at 2 P. M. to polish up the final wording of the wage-hour terms.

Bridges, under tremendous pressure from CIO Chieftain, Philip Murray, early today telephoned a San Francisco meeting of CIO Longshoremen to accept terms of a government fact-finding board. Ten thousand union members voted their approval.

Bridges, who earlier had rejected the board's terms as inadequate, hinted, however, that he may call for another strike Sept. 30.

Today's session was scheduled so late and the formalities were expected to consume so much time that federal officials from the White House down expected some work stoppages while the unions order their 200,000 seamen to work. Sailings of some vessels already have been canceled because of lack of crews or cargo, federal officials said.

The White House was so certain of final agreement, however, that orders for the Navy to man struck merchant ships have not been issued so that negotiations will not be disturbed.

Bridges was the last of the union leaders to capitulate to government terms under the steady, persuasive pressure of Murray who participated in yesterday's 11-hour long negotiations.

His principal gains were recognition for his brain-child, the seven-union committee for maritime unity, and nationwide bargaining in the maritime industry. These achievements Bridges counted a tremendous advantage in the CIO competition with the AFL seamen's unions. Bridges' is the only dockside union involved in the current dispute.

McCarran said if any such request should be submitted he would bow to it, despite his personal feeling that the Jackson-Black dispute did not enter into the question of confirming Vinson.

SOCIETY

Mrs. Lewman Hostess
To Bainbridge Club

About eighteen members of the Bainbridge Missionary-Aid were most graciously received at the beautiful country home of Mrs. Flora Lewman, the retiring president, June 12th for a carry-in lunch.

The afternoon meeting opened by singing "I Need Thee Every Hour," followed by impressive devotions given by Mrs. Paul McKeehan. Rev. Smith gave the prayer and the missionary lesson. He told of the activities of his uncle and aunt who are missionaries in Korea. It was most instructive. Mrs. Maude Collings pleasantly read the stewardship lesson, "Great Possessions." Mrs. James Curran and Mrs. Maude Collings gave their birthday offerings to the growing carpet fund. The president presented Rev. Smith "Strong's Concordance to the Bible," a gift from the society and the church, for his graduation this week from Butler. Mrs. Maggie Hall will be in charge of the gifts for the Bethany gift shop. Mrs. Maude Collings, Mrs. Walter Ratcliff and Miss Marjorie Lewman were guests. The next meeting will be Friday, July 5th, with Mrs. Raywood Curran and the new officers for the year will be in charge.

Work To Get Hold On Italy

ROME, June 14—(INS)—Republican leaders moved to consolidate their hold on Italy today as embittered Monarchists threatened to avenge the ousting of King Humbert II.

The deposed monarch spent his first night in exile in Spain. He reportedly left Barcelona this morning by air for Portugal, where he will rejoin his queen and four children.

All seven major Italian Republican parties, meanwhile, promised full support to Premier Alcide De Gasperi, Provisional Chief of Staff. The Premier promised he would broadcast a message to the nation "at the earliest possible moment."

Despite Humbert's farewell plea that his followers remain "tranquil" under the new government, Monarchists throughout the south continued to battle rejoining Republicans.

Police and troop units, some employing tanks, patrolled major cities in the "royalist belt" and kept constant guard against a threatened march on Rome.

Monarchist protests intensified when it was learned Humbert accused de Gasperi's government of seizing control "in a revolutionary gesture," without waiting for final supreme court ruling on the recent referendum.

PURDUE GRADUATION

LAFAYETTE, Ind., June 14—(INS)—Purdue university will graduate 475 students at its 83rd commencement exercises Sunday.

This will be the final commencement before the University returns to the normal peace time schedule of two 18 week semesters and an eight week summer session each year.

Activities in connection with the first normal summer session since 1941 will be launched with orientation for approximately 250 students Monday June 24. An enrollment of nearly 4,000 students is expected for the summer session while a record-breaking enrollment of between 10,000 and 11,000 is anticipated for the regular fall semester which will start Sept. 19.

OIL LEASES NET SCHOOL
HALF-MILLION YEARLY

MEAD, La. (UP)—The impoverished little red school house is strictly story book stuff in this tiny town. You see, the school owns 25 oil wells.

It was sheer fate that led to the discovery of black gold on the lands owned by the Vermilion Parish school board. But the board converted that fate into a paying proposition.

The school collects $273,000 a year from the state, and it operates on that amount most of the time. Then for sheer profit there's half-a-million dollars a year from the oil leases.

Vermilion Parish hasn't gone overboard despite the wealth. Looking at the picture with a long range view, the school maintains every modern convenience for teaching.

But it has no fancy extras which waste money. The main point on the curriculum is agriculture, along with reading, writing and arithmetic a farmer needs in the modern-day world.

MILLION-WORD HISTORY

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.

(INS)—Dr. David Spence Hill, former president of the University of New Mexico, has written a million-word history of the Jeffersonville, Ky., Quartermaster Depot. The work begun four years ago, is part of a general survey of all army camps in the U. S. proposed by the late President Roosevelt.

SHOOTING PAINS IN BACK

GREATLY EASED BY HERBAL REMEDY

When due to insufficient secretion of KIDNEYS

When pain starts like a knife in the back along with frequent getting up nights, many folks are so grateful for Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root medicine that they are willing to pay as they should. For three generations Swamp Root has been the standby in millions of homes when loss of sleep from getting up nights causes folks to feel so nervous, run-down and worn out. Many think there is nothing like the herbs in Swamp Root for stimulating kidney's excretion. TRY it! Try to get feeling better with a bottle of Swamp Root from the drug store.

Beer Is Distinctive

Beer is a distinctive beverage, totally different from any other alcoholic beverage in its manufacture, distribution and dispensing methods.

It is recognized by the State of Indiana as a beverage of moderation. Each beer handler—manufacturer, wholesaler and retailer—is a separate and independent operator by statute. Thus interlocking interests like the "tied-houses" of former years are avoided in the orderly marketing process.

Beer is a close companion to food. It can be legally sold in Indiana on the premises in restaurants and hotels, where meals also are available, and in clubs.

In bottles or cans, it is an increasingly popular home drink. It fits in well with other nourishing foods in the refrigerator. Drug stores and groceries, if otherwise qualified, may handle it for carry-out sales.

Beer is difficult to obtain now, but when the world again settles down, it will be with you as readily as before to help you more fully enjoy our American Way of Life.

REGARDING SUGAR

The Rationing Division of the Indiana District Office of Price Administration announces that "terrific pressure for additional rationing sugar" is being exerted all over Indiana, the local OPA says. With the desire to can seasonal fruits, housewives are besieging the local Price Control Boards, the Indianapolis OPA District Office and even newspaper offices to make inquiries about rationing sugar.

Neither OPA local Price Control boards nor the Indiana OPA District Office has any power to ration rationing sugar. Canning sugar can now be issued only on Spare stamp No. 9 in War Ration Book four by the local dealer. There is no possibility as far as we know of getting additional rationing sugar until additional stamps for rationing sugar are authorized by the National Office of OPA. In the meantime it is useless to contact local OPA Boards or the Indianapolis OPA District Office to get rationing sugar."

HOUSE BEAUTIFUL Says...

Better your home... better your Living

And better Home Living begins with more Home Comfort. If your home doesn't say, "Relax, welcome home," to the tired husband... "Take it easy, darling," to the busy wife... "Curl up and enjoy your book, dear," to those wonderful children; now's the time to put more comfort into your home! We have comfort in every form of easy chair... love seat... couch and chaise longue. Come in and try them out now! Chair shown at $74.54 is just a sample from our spacious comfort floor.

A Little of . . .

THIS AND THAT

By (J. B. Z.)

Now that the Republican convention is over we can all look forward to the state session of the Democrats.

Roy Hillis reports new peas out of his garden but adds that he is still waiting on his tomatoes.

At the 500-mile race, recently, we had the pleasure of seeing Gen. Jimmy Doolittle, whose raid on Tokyo back in April 1942, made him one of the outstanding heroes of World War II. Doolittle is short in stature and very unassuming. He posed most obligingly for numerous amateur photographers as well as professional cameramen.

Isn't it about time for another one of those big snake stories from down around Putnamville?

Next week is carnival week in Greencastle and needless to say, the Legion boys will be right on the job to see that everybody has a good time at the city park.

A metal disk has been placed in the northeast exterior corner of the post office by government survey men which gives them a record of how high Greencastle is above sea level. You can write Washington for this information.

We were sorry to learn of the accidental death of Charley Butterworth, the droll-faced screen and stage comedian. Many local movie fans perhaps didn't know that he was a native Hoosier, being born and educated in South Bend and Notre Dame. He was also a newspaperman before embarking on his highly successful acting career. He died after an auto accident in Los Angeles.

Have you been out to the municipal airport lately? It's well worth a trip out there to watch our local student fliers.

This June marks the 107th graduating exercises at DePauw University. It is indeed a grand old school!

Some tall fish tales can be expected with the opening of the season Sunday.

No kidding, that Lions Club up at Roachdale is really planning a rousing Fourth of July celebration. Try to get up there one of the three days of the big doings.

"Steve" and "Carlo" are about ready to open a mighty attractive new market on the south side of the square.

Major Edward Bowes, creator of the "Original Amateur Hour" is dead but he will never be forgotten by the hundreds of talented men and women who "got their chance" on his famous radio program.

national atomic development authority (ADA) which would have "managerial control or ownership of all atomic energy activities potentially dangerous to world security" and power to "control, inspect and license all other activities" in the field.

2. Creation of international enforcement machinery, unhindered by veto rights, to punish swiftly those "who violate their solemn agreements not to develop or use atomic energy for destructive purposes."

3. Surrender to the authority, when enforcement machinery has been made fool-proof, of America's atomic secrets and facilities. The United States would then stop making atom bombs, and would either destroy its existing stockpile or hand it over to the enforcement agency.

4. Development of corresponding safeguards "against the illegal users of other weapons—bacteriological, biological, gas—perhaps—why not?—against war itself."

5. In the dramatic address to his colleagues and to "my fellow citizens of the world," the white-haired elder statesman—speaking in what he called "the afternoon of my life"—asserted solemnly:

"Science has torn from nature a secret so vast in its potentialities that our minds cower from the terror it creates," yet "terror is not enough to inhibit the use of the atomic bomb," against which he said science can provide no defenses.

"We must provide the mechanism to assure that atomic energy is used for peaceful purposes and preclude its use in war," he added. "To that end, we must provide immediate, swift and sure punishment of those who violate the agreements that are reached by the nations."

"Penalization is essential if peace is to be more than a feverish interlude between wars."

Baruch said specific penalties should be fixed for:

Illegal possession or use of an atomic bomb.

Illegal possession, or separation, of atomic material suitable for use in an atomic bomb.

Seizure of any plant or other property belonging to or licensed by the atomic development authority.

Willful interference with the activities of the authority.

"Creation or operation of dangerous projects in a manner contrary to, or in the absence of, a license granted by the international control body."

Baruch did not specify now enforcement machinery was to be established, but informed sources said the United States envisages lodging this function by international agreement either with the UN Security Council or with a specially created agency. The atomic development authority would be charged with detecting violators, but not with taking punitive measures.

Baruch said the United States

CASUALTIES OF WINTER

YELLOWSTONE PARK

Wyo. (INS)—Spring thaws have disclosed that a hard winter has taken a heavy toll of Yellowstone National Park's carefully nurtured buffalo herd. Bodies of 38 bison of the park's 300-head herd were found in ice-jacked Yellowstone River. Park Superintendent Edmund B. Rogers said the bison apparently had been lost in the river when ice collapsed beneath them.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

TO THE MOTORING PUBLIC OF PUTNAM COUNTY:

Holly's friendly Sales and Service opens to the public a new department in their general automobile repair business.

"In expanding our business and opening this new department, we have had to spend several hundred dollars for the newest type of equipment in order to make this department available. Also we have brought Mr. John Church, a man with 16 years experience, into our organization to head this new department.

We have been wanting to add this department to our business for a long time but good body repair and paint men are hard to find, and in securing the services of Mr. Church, we feel that both we and the motoring public are fortunate in having him available for their use.

Coupling Mr. Church with his ability and experience with that of Mr. "Pete" Griffith, our general shop manager who has devoted his life to repairing automobiles, we know we are offering the motoring public a complete one stop service that will be hard to excel in any community.

Feel free at any time to come in and talk to Mr. Church about your car appearance items and to Mr. Griffith about your mechanical troubles.

Free estimates gladly given."

Signed:

O. W. HOLLOWELL.
